DynCorp International Provides Update on Army Linguist Contract

FALLS CHURCH, Va.-August 14, 2007 - The U.S. Army Intelligence and Security Command has issued an amendment to the solicitation for translation and interpretation services in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

Global Linguist Services LLC (GLS), a joint venture of DynCorp International and McNeil Technologies, was originally awarded the contract by the U.S. Army on December 18, 2006. The contract awarded to GLS was protested before the Government Accountability Office (GAO) by the incumbent, and the GAO determined the Army should take certain corrective action.

The Army's amendment to the solicitation revises three evaluation subfactors and specifies a five-page proposal limit for each subfactor. The subfactors are those dealing with fill rate (the ability to deploy qualified personnel on a timely basis), experience, and transition plan. Revised proposals are due to the Army on August 24, 2007.

"We are pleased that this procurement is moving forward in a serious manner that will address the concerns raised by the GAO and ensure a timely decision." said DynCorp International President and CEO Herbert J. Lanese. "We look forward to an expedited conclusion of this procurement."

About DynCorp International
DynCorp International (NYSE: DCP) is a provider of specialized mission-critical technical services to civilian and military government agencies worldwide, and operates major programs in law enforcement training and support, security services, base operations, aviation services, contingency operations, and logistics support. Headquartered in Falls Church, Va., DynCorp International has approximately 14,000 employees worldwide. For more information, visit www.dyn-intl.com.