Ingersoll Rand Added to S&P 500

Swords, Ireland, November 11, 2010 – Ingersoll Rand plc (NYSE: IR), a world leader in creating and sustaining safe, comfortable and efficient environments, will have its common stock added to Standard & Poor's 500 Index after the market closes on Nov. 16, 2010.

The S&P 500, a market-value-weighted index, is the world's most followed stock market measure and is seen as the benchmark standard to measure overall U.S. equity market performance.

"I am pleased that the company will rejoin the S&P 500 Index and be part of the most widely followed index of large-cap stocks," said Michael W. Lamach, chairman, president and CEO of Ingersoll Rand. "I believe the company's inclusion in the S&P 500 also will broaden the recognition of Ingersoll Rand's commitment to delivering premier performance our employees, customers, shareholders, and prospective investors."
