

Prohibition on Hedging, Pledging, and Short Selling Apple Stock

As part of a longstanding policy, Apple prohibits transactions in derivatives of Apple stock, including hedging transactions, for all directors, officers, employees, consultants and contractors of the Company. In addition, Apple prohibits pledging of Apple stock as collateral by directors and executive officers of the Company and prohibits short sales of Apple stock by directors and executive officers of the Company.