KLAS Report Names NextGen Healthcare as Most Improved

In 2018 KLAS Report, EHR - over 75 Providers - named "most improved"

IRVINE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Quality Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: QSII), known to its clients as NextGen Healthcare, received the 2018 Best in KLAS Award, most improved vendor for EHR - over 75 Providers. The top-performing recognition reflects a 10% increase over the past year in the Most Improved Award Category.

"At NextGen Healthcare, we are on a relentless quest for better. From the technology we develop, the services we provide, the processes we refine, and our dedicated team members around the globe, we are committed to help physicians achieve the Quadruple Aim while ensuring a successful journey towards value-based care," said Rusty Frantz, NextGen Healthcare President and CEO. "Receiving this recognition from a trusted industry research organization like KLAS is another step on our journey towards becoming better. Our entire team is dedicated to providing the best possible experience for our clients so they can, in turn, improve the lives of those they care for."

The company's internal "Voice of the Client" function is squarely focused on improving the overall client experience, providing dedicated account management and technical support, ongoing client education, and consistent partnership to ensure client's feel the difference. Over the next 12 months, NextGen Healthcare remains committed to optimizing their solutions to enhance and improve the client experience. So much so, that they will continue to invest in improving provider satisfaction through EHR use ability and performance improvements.

"To us, better is not about just installing software or processing billing transactions. Together with our clients, we will continue on our journey towards continual improvement and constant innovation. We are fueled by our pledge to provide solutions and services that enable physicians to do what they do best - focus on the practice of medicine and the overall health of the patients they serve," said Frantz.
