Altisource's Premium Title Announces Integration with LendingQB's Loan Origination System

Reinforces Premium Title's commitment to help make the title process seamless, and more efficient

ATLANTA, GA -- (Marketwired) -- 02/21/17 -- Premium Title, a national provider of title and escrow services, announced today its integration with LendingQB's end-to-end, browser-based loan origination system (LOS). The integration can help provide customers with the ability to obtain title and settlement quotes faster, place orders with Premium Title and receive a title fee certificate guaranteeing fees for 30 days, all without leaving the LendingQB platform.

This integration, gives Premium Title clients the capability to experience a seamless and more efficient process within the LendingQB LOS platform. Lenders using LendingQB can receive an automated quote for title services and a title fee certificate guaranteeing title fees, which auto-populates into the LOS. LendingQB can also maintain the loan estimate and any adjustments in fees associated with the loan, assisting with TRID compliance and faster disclosure timelines.

"Teaming up with LendingQB allows us to expand our network by providing customers with greater access to our exceptional title services and solutions," said James A. Weld, president of Premium Title. "The positive feedback from our beta customers helps confirm that this integration is adding quality and efficiency to the loan origination process."

"We are pleased to offer Premium Title's services through our loan origination system," said Tim Nguyen, president of LendingQB. "This integration is a prime example of our best-of-breed strategy that will provide lenders with the ease of researching fees, ordering title services and receiving documents directly from Premium Title."
