Consolidated Communications Launches Business Cloud Secure, Expanding its Cloud Services Offering

Cloud Secure allows businesses to access a fully managed security platform that operates on industry-leading technology

MATTOON, Ill., Jan. 17, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Consolidated Communications Holdings, Inc. (NASDAQ:CNSL), a leading business and broadband communications provider, announced today that it has launched Cloud Secure, its newest cloud service offering available to businesses across its 11-state service area. Cloud Secure prevents an ever-growing list of innovative attacks from affecting the business, allowing IT resources to stay focused on strategic initiatives and ensuring increased productivity.

"We are very excited to add Cloud Secure to our suite of cloud services helping businesses of all sizes to proactively guard against system intrusions and security threats that put critical applications and data at risk," said Darren Peterson, vice president of product marketing at Consolidated Communications, Inc. (CCI). "Our comprehensive suite of cloud services enables businesses to reduce their overall operating costs and improve efficiencies."

"Consolidated's Cloud Secure services offer best-in-class security features, including threat prevention, URL filtering, cloud-based malware analysis, and network security on any device," added Peterson. "These key feature sets were built together from the ground up to prevent even the most sophisticated threats from impacting business continuity."

CCI has the expertise and capabilities to deploy and support cloud-ready, integrated infrastructure including both public and private cloud strategies. Backed by the company's superior customer service and extensive fiber network, CCI is an experienced and reliable partner, committed to helping businesses harness the full power of cloud services.
