IntriCon Exercises Option to Acquire Remaining Stake in Hearing Help Express

ARDEN HILLS, Minn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- IntriCon Corporation (NASDAQ: IIN), a designer, developer, manufacturer and distributor of miniature and micro-miniature body-worn devices, today announced that it has exercised its option to acquire the remaining 80-percent stake in DeKalb, Ill.-based Hearing Help Express (HHE), a direct-to-consumer mail order hearing aid provider. Terms of the transaction include $650,000 in cash, guaranty of HHE's $2 million note and an earn-out. The deal is expected to close in the first half of 2017, subject to customary closing conditions.

"Completing this acquisition will give IntriCon direct access to consumers and the emerging value-based hearing healthcare market," said Mark Gorder, president and chief executive officer of IntriCon. "HHE offers a lower-priced alternative for consumers to purchase devices directly—circumventing layers of costs associated with the conventional hearing aid channel. We look forward to building on the HHE platform by leveraging our own technically advanced devices and making targeted investments in management, marketing and advertising—and ultimately incorporating an online component."

Since taking its initial 20-percent stake in October 2016, IntriCon has made meaningful progress integrating and optimizing HHE. To date IntriCon has:

- | Streamlined management positions—generating nearly $300,000 in net annual cost savings;
- | Started to map out the introduction of IntriCon's advanced digital hearing devices into HHE's product line;
- | Transitioned all treasury controls to IntriCon corporate headquarters; and
- | Leased a new HHE facility which is expected to drive operating efficiencies and better work management.

"We're excited about the opportunity to deliver superior outcomes-based affordable hearing healthcare. And we look forward to providing an update on HHE on our January 26 strategy update conference call," concluded Gorder.
