Marilyn Matz Elected to Teradyne's Board of Directors

NORTH READING, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Teradyne, Inc. (NYSE:TER) announced the election of Marilyn Matz to its Board of Directors effective July 3, 2017. Ms. Matz was also appointed to the Board's Compensation Committee and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

Ms. Matz has more than 35 years of experience in automation, machine vision and software analytics related technologies. After cofounding Cognex, a leader in vision systems, Ms. Matz held a variety of leadership positions in engineering and business operations at the company. She is a cofounder and current CEO and board chair of Paradigm4, a scientific analytics software company empowering data scientists, bioinformatics researchers, and scientists to tackle data management and complex analytics challenges with big and diverse data. Ms. Matz earned degrees in computer science from Syracuse University and MIT.

"We are very pleased that Marilyn is joining our Board of Directors," said Roy Vallee, Teradyne Chairman. "Her technical expertise and experience in the automation and vision fields will be especially valuable to our Board as Teradyne continues to strengthen its position in the global electronics and industrial automation industries."
