AUSTRALIAN PRIVACY POLICY

Policy Statement

REVA Medical, Inc. (“REVA,” the “Company,” “us,” or “we”) (ARBN 146 505 777) collects, uses, holds, shares and discloses your personal information in/from Australia (“Personal Information”) in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

In Australia, REVA may collect Personal Information about:

- Individuals and businesses
- Securityholders
- Other people who come into contact with the Company in the ordinary course of business

Personal Information is collected by us to facilitate the effective provision of a service or inquiry, or to operate our business. Failure to provide this information to us may prevent us from providing you with the information or services you require and/or to do business with you.

Personal Information

Why do we collect Personal Information?

As a listed entity on the Australian Securities Exchange (“ASX”), we have certain statutory obligations imposed on us under the Corporations Act. We may collect, use and disclose Personal Information in order to be able to effectively discharge these obligations.

We collect Personal Information about our securityholders (“Securityholders”) in order for us to perform our functions and obligations as a listed company and to provide Securityholders with relevant information and services.

We collect Personal Information about our Australian non-executive directors and any Australian employees or consultants for the purposes of arranging, facilitating, and administering our compensation and benefit plans, including our Amended and Restated 2010 Equity Incentive Plan, and for compliance reporting of the plans and the participation of individuals in it. In addition, we collect Personal Information about contractors, consultants, and suppliers in order to manage and facilitate our business with these individuals.

We also collect Personal Information from Australian individuals and companies in order to respond to emails, answer questions or resolve problems.

What Personal Information do we collect?

If you are a Securityholder we may collect Personal Information including your name, address, contact details, title, and the number of our securities owned by you in order for us to respond to inquiries, resolve problems, and administer matters related to our issued securities. Our CDI registry, Computershare Investor Services Pty Limited, administers the records and transactions related to holdings in REVA’s CHESS Depository Interests (“CDIs”) and any other securities we have issued in Australia; Computershare has established and published their privacy policies that detail their safeguarding and use of Personal Information.

If you are an Australian director, employee, or consultant, we may collect the following Personal Information to manage and facilitate your participation in our compensation and benefit plans or other business you may have with REVA:

- Name and date of birth
- Tax file number or other identification number
- Job title and compensation
- Country or state of residency
- Address and telephone number
- Securities owned as well as entitlements to securities

If you are an Australian contractor, service provider, supplier or job applicant we may collect Personal Information such as your name, contact details, and other information we require to do business with you, or to consider your application including, but not limited to, education, professional qualifications, age, prior employment, registrations, and taxpayer identification number. We may also collect background information containing criminal offenses or credit ratings, if we've received authorization in writing by you to collect such information.

How do we collect Personal Information?

Personal Information is collected in a variety of ways, including by way of personal contact, as well as mail, telephone, email, and the internet.

If you are a Securityholder we will collect your Personal Information from you directly, through our share registry, or through information provided to us by you via our website.

If you are an Australian director, employee, or consultant, we will collect information from you directly.

If you are a contractor, service provider, supplier, or job applicant, we will ordinarily collect Personal Information directly from you. However, in some circumstances, we may conduct searches of publically available information and/or conduct background checks.

How do we use and disclose Personal Information?

If you are a Securityholder we only use Personal Information that is reasonably necessary to provide you services, normally to enable the resolution of a concern or complaint.

If you are an Australian director, employee or consultant, we will use your Personal Information to facilitate and manage your participation in our compensation and benefit plans and as otherwise required for compliance reporting.

If you are an Australian contractor, service provider, supplier, or job applicant we may disclose your Personal Information where there is a requirement to give effect to an element of our business relationship with you including for reference and background checks.

Contracts we enter into with other parties for the provision of services may require us to disclose your Personal Information to them.

We will only use your Personal Information for the purpose for which you have provided it. Except as provided in this Privacy Policy, we will not disclose your Personal Information to third parties unless you consent or where such disclosure is required or permitted by law.

Personal Information collected through our website www.revamedical.com

When you visit our website you are not required to disclose any information about yourself. If you contact us through the gateway on our website and choose to provide Personal Information, we will utilize such data to respond to your inquiry. We do not collect or maintain personally identifiable information for resale purposes, or share your information with any other company or organization.

Our website may contain links to other websites. We do not share your Personal Information with those websites and we are not responsible for their privacy practices.

Unsecured Email Warning

Any information that you send to us in an email is considered unsecure. Due to the nature of the internet, there is a possibility that unsecured (i.e., unencrypted) email could be intercepted and read by third parties. We assume no responsibility for interception of confidential information (including a resume or other document containing Personal Information) that you send in an unsecured email message.

Do not send information related to medical conditions or other specific personal health items via email. We cannot be responsible for personal health information sent through email.

Anonymous data collected through our website www.revamedical.com

In addition to the information you provide when you use our website, we collect anonymous information about the use of our website. For example, our website tracks how many visitors access our website, the date and time of their visit, the length of their stay, and which pages they view. It also tracks which Web browsers our visitors use and the address from which they accessed our site. This technology does not identify you personally. Currently, we do not analyse these statistics for any purpose.

Storage and security of your Personal Information

The security of your Personal Information is important to us and we take reasonable steps to protect the Personal Information we hold about you from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification, or disclosure. These measures include computer safeguards, access restrictions, and secured files and buildings.

However, data protection and security measures are never completely secure and, despite the measures we have put in place, we cannot guarantee the complete security of your Personal Information. You must take care to protect your Personal Information and you should also notify us as soon as possible if you become aware of any security breaches.

How can you access or seek correction of the Personal Information we hold about you?

We will take reasonable steps to ensure that Personal Information held about you is accurate, complete, and up-to-date. If you wish to know what Personal Information we hold about you or would like to request a correction to the Personal Information that we hold about you, please contact us (see contact details below).

In order for us to respond to your request, you will need to provide us with information to verify your identity, which may include your full name, contact details, Securityholder identification, or other relevant information. You will need to provide a description of the information you wish to access and/or specify the manner in which the information we hold is inaccurate, out of date, irrelevant, incomplete, or misleading and how it should be amended.

How will we deal with complaints about how we handle your Personal Information?

Please contact us if you are not happy with how we have handled your Personal Information or if you are concerned that we have breached an obligation under the Australian Privacy Principles or this Privacy Policy (see contact details below).

We will consider your complaint and determine whether it requires further investigation. We will notify you of the outcome of this determination and/or any subsequent internal investigation.

If you are not satisfied with our response, you may wish to contact the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner at www.oaic.gov.au.
