Ocwen, NID, and NAACP Team Up to Help Borrowers in Los Angeles, California

February 25th event to help homeowners explore options to better afford their homes

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Ocwen Financial Corporation (NYSE:OCN), a leading financial services holding company, is collaborating with NID Housing Counseling Agency (NID), a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)-approved housing counseling organization headquartered in Oakland, CA, and the NAACP to host their first homeowner outreach event of 2017 in Los Angeles, California on Saturday, February 25. The Los Angeles event will be the third event that Ocwen, NAACP and NID have collaborated on to help California homeowners over the last year.

The event will be held from 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the Consolidated Board of Realtists, which is located at 3725 Don Felipe Drive in Los Angeles. Admission and parking are free for all attendees. RSVPs are not required.

Ocwen customers who are struggling to meet their mortgage obligations will have the opportunity to meet one-on-one with Ocwen Home Retention Agents and NID housing counselors to discuss loan modification options that could help lower their mortgage payments.

"Ocwen is recognized as the industry leader in responsible home retention in California and throughout the United States. Since 2008, we have helped more than 91,000 California homeowners avoid foreclosure through loan modification programs," said Jill Showell, Senior Vice President of Government and Community Relations at Ocwen. "NID and the NAACP share our belief that homeownership is the foundation of strong communities, and we are proud to be working together to bring relief to struggling borrowers in the Los Angeles area."

"Sadly, NID continues to witness firsthand the financial challenges families are facing throughout California," said Ray Carlisle, President of NID. "Many of these families are still unable to afford their mortgage payments, and are at risk of losing their homes. We are pleased to be working together with Ocwen and the NAACP to help make a meaningful difference in peoples' lives with this important borrower outreach initiative. Our goal is to help borrowers explore all available loan modification options so they can remain in their home and a part of their community."

"It is concerning that so many minority homeowners throughout California are struggling to pay their mortgage," commented Marvin Owens, Senior Director of Economic Programs at the NAACP. "The NAACP recognizes there is still work to be done to protect the hard fought gains that homeownership represents. This borrower outreach initiative is designed to educate homeowners on available loan modification programs, including principal reduction options, which can help them better afford their homes, remain part of their communities, and build wealth for the future."

Homeowners who attend the event will receive the following:

- | Assistance with preparing their Request for Mortgage Assistance (RMA) package;
- | Information on borrower eligibility for state and federal foreclosure assistance programs;
- | Counseling on possible mortgage solutions tailored to fit their unique financial situations; and
- | Information on free, follow-up housing counseling and education with NID.
