

Luck of the Irish: Autobytel® Editors Choose Their Favorite Vehicles in Green

IRVINE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Top of the morning to you! Traditionally, people wear the color green to commemorate St. Patrick's Day. Autobytel® editors celebrate this St. Patrick's Day by choosing their favorite vehicles that come in the color green. Perhaps driving one of these vehicles will bring you good luck this St. Patrick's Day, or at the very least, provide a fun driving experience.

According to Editor in Chief Michelle Naranjo, "green is definitely not the most popular car color but we think that these cars just might bring the Luck of the Irish to anyone who gets to drive one that is painted green. Our favorite green colored cars run the gamut from high-performance luxury sports cars to a minivan. It might not be the green paint that makes them so fabulous but we like the way that they look with a Leprechaun touch of green."

We think you will be surprised at the wide variety of cars that come in the color green and may even consider one of these for your next vehicle choice. From our 2012 Car of the Year, the 2012 Hyundai Veloster in Electrolyte Green, to the 2012 Porsche Cayman R in Peridot Metallic, to the 2012 Toyota Sienna in South Pacific Pearl, these green colored vehicles might turn any Leprechaun green with envy.
