

LIVING THE VEGAS HIGH LIFE: Allegiant Air Partners with Palms Las Vegas and Stratosphere Casino & Hotel

(Las Vegas, Nev.)-Allegiant Air, LLC, the Las Vegas-based airline, today announces the addition of two new hotel partners-- Palms Las Vegas and Stratosphere Casino & Hotel. These new additions complete the low-cost airline's roster of 37 famous casino-resorts available through the company's vacation division, Allegiant Vacations.

Palms Las Vegas hosts younger crowds and celebrities year round. In 2002, the Palms became home for participants of MTV's, "The Real World Las Vegas." When filming ceased, the hotel opened the suite to the public by allowing the Real World Suite to be reserved on a nightly basis. The resort is also home to "Celebrity Poker Showdown" on Bravo.

The Palms is known for hip nightclubs where young people go to be scene and dance the night away. Standing 55 stories above Las Vegas, the Ghostbar provides a trendy atmosphere with a stunning view of the Las Vegas Strip. At Rain, guests dance inside the 28,000 square-foot nightclub equipped with an elevated dance floor lit by fourteen-foot fireballs. In addition to dancing, club Rain has become the venue for musical performances by Santana, Seal, Nelly, Britney Spears and more.

Guests at Palms Las Vegas experience the ultimate in dining at any of the seven restaurants including N9NE Steakhouse, Gardunos, Little Buddha, Blue Agave, Fantasy Market Buffet and Alize. N9NE Steakhouse serves prime aged steak, fresh seafood and imported wines nightly. Gardunos spices it up by offering favorite Mexican dishes and a variety of frozen margaritas. Little Buddha serves unique Asian cuisine and is equipped with a fresh sushi bar. Opened in 2001, the Palms offers more than 800 guest rooms, suites and villas. The casino spans 95,000 square feet including table games, slots, a poker room and a race and sports book.

In October 2005, the Palms opened the $600 million Fantasy Tower. The new tower offers a choice of suites with basketball courts, bowling alleys or private swimming pools. Fantasy Tower features the first music recording studio inside a casino. Musicians are granted 24-hour access to the studios, where experienced staff and state-of-the-art equipment are available. Plans were recently unveiled for a third tower, Palms Place, to open in winter 2007. The Palms Place will offer condos, hotel accommodations and extravagant spa options to patrons.

Hotel packages at the tallest hotel on the Vegas skyline, Stratosphere Casino & Hotel, are also now available for booking. The Stratosphere stands 1,149 feet tall and is located on the North end of the Strip. Take an elevator to the top and enjoy great views of the Strip from the observation deck or from the seat of a thrill ride.

The world's tallest thrill rides--X-Scream, Big Shot, High Roller and Insanity, sit atop the famous landmark to provide nonstop excitement. Insanity, the world's fourth tallest thrill ride, spins people 64 feet past the edge of the Stratosphere at 40 mph. X-Scream tilts riders past the edge playing with fears of heights and falling. Big Shot, the world's tallest thrill ride, stands 1,081 feet above ground; shooting guests up and down a tower while "Viva Las Vegas," plays in the background. Roller, the world's highest roller coaster, provides a great view of Las Vegas for all sightseers.

Las Vegas is known for weddings and one of the most unique wedding experiences can happen at Chapel in the Clouds. Located 800 feet above ground, any wedding and reception becomes truly special when views from the top of the Stratosphere become the backdrop.

Guests who dine at the Stratosphere can choose from a variety of restaurants. Choices range from gourmet dishes at Top of the World to burgers and shakes at Roxy's Diner to all-time favorites at the Courtyard Buffet.

The Stratosphere offers many entertainment choices, sure to please all looking to get a taste of Vegas. Enjoy tributes to pop superstars such as Britney Spears, Elvis, Michael Jackson and Tim McGraw in "American Superstars." Images Lounge, featuring local entertainers, offers live entertainment any night of the week.

Opened in 1996, the Stratosphere features 2,313 hotel rooms and 131 luxury suites. The 80,000 square-foot casino offers 1,500 slot and video poker machines, a poker room, more than 50 table games and a race and sports book.

Through it's Allegiant Vacations program, the company offers low-cost packages with Las Vegas' most exciting hotel properties. In addition to new partners Palms Las Vegas and Stratosphere, the company offers packages with the Wynn, Bellagio, Venetian, Paris, MGM Grand, Mandalay Bay, Caesars, Monte Carlo, Mirage, Excalibur, New York New York, Tropicana, Rio Suites, Bally's, Las Vegas Club, Flamingo, Riviera, Luxor, Terrible's, Circus Circus, Hooter's, Imperial Palace, Harrah's, Treasure Island, Gold Coast, Westin Casuarina, Golden Nugget, Aladdin, South Coast, Four Queens, Stardust, Plaza and Orleans.
