Telefónica Partners With Allot Communications to Establish a Multi-service Platform for Improved Security and User Experience

Value-added security-as-a-service will increase subscribers' protection from online threats while using Telefónica network

HOD HASHARON, Israel, February 22, 2017 /PRNewswire/ --

Allot Communications Ltd., a leading provider of security and monetization solutions that enable service providers and enterprises to protect and personalize the digital experience, has been selected by global broadband and telecommunications provider Telefonica to provide network-based security services and improved user experience for subscribers across Telefonica's mobile and fixed markets internationally. Initial deployment will be accomplished in several Telefonica affiliates in Europe and LATAM.

"We are excited to partner with Telefonica to enhance the digital experience of their customers." said Erez Antebi, President and CEO, Allot Communications. "The multiservice value and extreme scalability of Allot Service Gateway and Allot WebSafe Personal solutions will enable Telefonica to deliver best-in-class secure and optimized experience to Telefonica customers."

Allot will be presenting these network-based services at Mobile World Congress 2017 in Barcelona 27 February through 2 March at its booth, Hall 5 Stand 5G41.
