

Analogic Corporation Receives $17.5 Million Order for Its Explosive Assessment Computed Tomography Systems and Upgrade Components

PEABODY, MASS., Aug 15, 2007 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Analogic Corporation (NASDAQ: ALOG) announced today that it has received an order from L-3 Communications (NYSE: LLL) for EXplosive Assessment Computed Tomography (EXACT[®]) systems and associated upgrade equipment valued at $17.5 million. The EXACT is the heart of the certified eXaminer 3DX[®] Explosives Detection System (EDS), developed jointly by L-3 and Analogic and distributed exclusively by L-3 for screening checked baggage at airports. The system features advanced multi-slice CT imaging technology and provides full 3-D images of all the contents of a bag, enabling automatic detection of explosives. The hardware upgrades will enable airports to upgrade eXaminer systems already in the field.

Jim Green, President and CEO of Analogic, said, "We're pleased to receive another order for EXACT systems from L-3. Working closely with L-3, we have become the industry leaders in providing the most capable and reliable checked baggage solution for airports. Over 750 eXaminers have been installed around the world to date. Also, the L-3/Analogic team is working closely with the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to achieve substantial long-term savings for airports and the TSA through the expanded use of enhanced, in-line EDS installations." Green added that Analogic expects to start shipping the first systems from this order in early calendar 2008.
