The basis effect described in item 15 is an estimate based on the best currently available information. FXCM will post a corrected Form 8937 if it determines the amount per share for the cash distribution is different. For example, as FXCM finalizes its 2014 Federal income tax return, a corrected Form 8937 may be filed. It is recommended that shareholders contact their tax advisors to consider the potential consequences of reporting a non-taxable distribution amount that is different from a revised amount if so warranted.
