Datawatch selected by Kronos to Streamline HR/Payroll Data Migration

Human Capital Management Solutions Provider to Leverage Datawatch Monarch for Self-Service Data Preparation to Support Acceleration of Kronos Workforce Ready Deployments

BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 29, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Datawatch Corporation (NASDAQ-CM: DWCH) today announced that leading workforce management and human capital management solutions provider Kronos Incorporated will tap the power of the Datawatch Monarch self-service data preparation platform to help streamline and accelerate deployments of the Kronos Workforce Ready cloud platform. Kronos' professional services team will employ Monarch as part of its implementation service offering, simplifying and standardizing data formatting and migration from existing HR/Payroll systems into Workforce Ready.

"To ensure the highest levels of customer success, Kronos Workforce Ready constantly evaluates new ways to further accelerate our implementation processes," stated Bob DelPonte, vice president and general manager, Kronos Workforce Ready group. "With Monarch, Kronos can eliminate manual, time-intensive data manipulation, allowing faster data migration, accelerated implementation times, and an even better customer experience."

Self-service data preparation use cases continue to evolve as the breadth and volume of enterprise data rapidly increases. From self-service analytics and report reconciliation to data migration for accelerated enterprise software and cloud deployments, the need to empower more business users with the ability to quickly and easily access, clean, transform and blend data from a variety of sources is greater than ever. Kronos selected Datawatch Monarch to serve as its standard platform for data preparation and data migration.

"Kronos is a recognized leader in HR, workforce management, and payroll, with amazing growth and adoption of its Workforce Ready platform. Monarch provides Kronos consultants with an unprecedented ability to quickly and easily manipulate and combine disparate data from virtually any source and prepare it for migration to Workforce Ready," Ken Tacelli, COO of Datawatch. "Only Monarch can unlock employee data from HR/Payroll systems provided in proprietary data export formats, payroll reports and PDF documents, avoiding the need for manual data input and complex spreadsheet formatting."
