ClearOne's Second-Generation Beamforming Microphone Array Wins "Best of Show" at ISE 2017

AVTechnology Magazine Cites Attention to Detail, Breakthrough Features

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 22, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- ClearOne [NASDAQ: CLRO], a leading global provider of audio and visual communication solutions, announced that its Beamforming Microphone Array 2 has won a "Best of Show" in Amsterdam's Integrated Systems Europe 2017 convention.

Winners at ISE 2017 were selected by NewBay Media's AVTechnology from among more than 3,000 products and 1,100 exhibitors. "Attention to detail, emphasis on the end-user, and breakthrough features made these standout products this year," said Margot Douaihy, NewBay Media editorial director and AVTechnology managing editor.

The ultra-sleek design of ClearOne's Beamforming Microphone Array 2 fits any conferencing environment and delivers the clearest audio pickup available with its "acoustic intelligence."

"The microphone's 'adaptive acoustic steering' — think of it as smart beam selection — enables the user to move anywhere within a conference space and still be heard clearly, because the mic actually finds the user," ClearOne CEO, President & Chairman Zee Hakimoglu explained.

"Our second-generation beamformer technology, which builds on four years of outstanding first-generation installation success, incorporates unmatched audio signal processing, acoustic echo cancellation, and noise cancellation to deliver the ultimate in conferencing clarity and intelligible audio," she added.
