U.S. Air Force Awards Booz Allen $140M to Provide Consulting Services to Streamline Business Operations

MCLEAN, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- The U.S. Air Force is the world's preeminent force in air, space and cyberspace. In today's complex geopolitical landscape, the Air Force faces a myriad of complex business and transformational challenges across its locations and specialties that requires a strategic approach to restore readiness, modernize, and drive innovation. To support business transformation, the Air Force District of Washington (AFDW) has awarded Booz Allen Hamilton (NYSE: BAH) a five year $140 million indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity (IDIQ) contract to conduct business area process reengineering, strategic planning, performance improvement and change management projects consistent with Department of Defense Reform.

"We are honored to expand our role as a trusted Department of Defense partner to help the Air Force streamline business operations and solve their most difficult challenges by driving the most effective use of resources to meet mission priorities," said Frank Lee, vice president at Booz Allen. "Our team will utilize our proven management consulting experience combined with our deep understanding of military operations to enable effective and efficient business operations across the Air Force enterprise. This will create a culture focused on Continuous Process Improvement and Innovation."

This work builds on Booz Allen's more than 35 years of supporting Air Force transformation. Read more about these efforts, here.
