ADP Honored by Junior Achievement with U.S. President's Volunteer Service Award for Second Year

Company Recognized for Volunteer Efforts That Provide Students with Critical Mentoring and Positive Role Models

ROSELAND, N.J. – March 12, 2018 – Junior Achievement USA® (JA) has honored ADP® with the U.S. President's Volunteer Service Award for providing at least 5,000 volunteer hours to local Junior Achievement area offices during the 2016-2017 school year. The U.S. President's Volunteer Service Award will be presented to 57 organizations at an awards ceremony during the JA Volunteer Summit, presented by American Express Foundation, on March 13, 2018 in New York, NY.

"We are thrilled to be honored with this prestigious award for the second year in a row," said Rita Mitjans, chief diversity and corporate social responsibility officer at ADP. "ADP recognizes the importance of giving back to our local communities and is committed to being a responsible corporate citizen. By virtue of what we do, we feel a particular responsibility to help develop, train and grow the workforce of the future."

In 2003, President George W. Bush established the President's Council on Service and Civic Participation (the Council) to recognize the valuable contributions volunteers make in communities and encourage more people to serve. The Council created the President's Volunteer Service Award program as a way to thank and honor individuals who, by their demonstrated commitment and example, inspire others to engage in volunteer service. In 2006, Junior Achievement became an official certifying organization for this award, which recognizes corporations with a U.S. presence that provide volunteers to teach JA programs anywhere in the world.

"I'm extremely proud to see so many ADP associates dedicated to volunteering significant time to Junior Achievement to help foster work-readiness and empower the next generation's success," said Raj Uttamchandani, vice president of business relationship management and client relations at ADP and Junior Achievement of New Jersey board member. "Several times a year, our associates volunteer by taking part in fantastic initiatives such as JA BizTown® and JA Finance Park®, programs that teach invaluable lessons in entrepreneurship, personal finance and career exploration."

Junior Achievement's kindergarten through high school programs are delivered across the country by a network of more than 243,000 volunteers. JA programs provide innovative, hands-on work readiness, entrepreneurship and financial literacy education to 4.8 million students each year.
