Covisint Extends Relationship with Ford Motor Company

Enables Secure Access to Information and Applications for Global Suppliers

DETROIT, May 31, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Covisint Corporation (Nasdaq:COVS) today announced that it has extended its relationship with Ford Motor Company ("Ford"). With this extension, Ford will continue to leverage the Covisint B2B Automotive Exchange.

The Covisint B2B Automotive Exchange currently provides global access to information and applications for more than 615,000 supplier users across 100,000 supplier organizations connected to select global automotive OEMs. The B2B Automotive Exchange provides global OEMs with the following:

- | Extends the OEMs enterprise to manage external supplier users with single sign-on to critical resources based on user types.
- | Provides delegated administration both for security and access, as well as for content management and collaboration resources.
- | Helps to manage, automate and govern the complex network of people, systems, and devices that need access to resources.
- | Allows authenticated and unauthenticated content to be personalized and presented to users based upon attributes such as location, division and role.
- | Anytime, anywhere 24x7 support with industry-leading service level agreements and availability.
