

Albany Business Review announces winners of Tech Awards

Jan 19, 2017, 2:13pm EST Updated: Jan 19, 2017, 2:27pm EST

This year, Albany Business Review is introducing the Tech Awards, a program that celebrates the contributions of businesses and individuals to the technology sector of the Capital Region. These winners have made extraordinary advances in their respective fields and have been integral to the region's growth.

The 2017 award winners are:

Technology Entrepreneur

Tony Hoang, Advanced Modular Instruments

Technology in Manufacturing

SI Group FLOS (Fuels, Lubricants, Oilfield, Surfactants) Research & Development Team

Technology in Energy/Sustainability

Pradeep Haldar, Interim Dean of the College of Nanoscale Engineering and Technology Innovation;
CNSE Vice President of Entrepreneurship Innovation and Clean Energy Programs

Technology in Health Care

Dr. Alan Boulos, Chair, Department of Neurosurgery, Albany Medical Center

Cyber Security Award

GreyCastle Security

Software Innovation

Kitware

Technology Job Creator

GlobalFoundries

Technology Researcher

R. Jason Herr, Research Fellow, AMRI

The Robert Horan High School Educator Award

Barry Witte, Colonie High School

The Beno Sternlicht Mentor Award

David Davis, President and COO, Simmons Machine Tool

We expect to announce more categories and winners in the near future.

The awards luncheon will be held Feb. 17 at 11:30 a.m. at the Hilton Albany. To register for the event, click here.

Melissa Mangini
Managing Editor
Albany Business Review

