"Every summer, Grandma would drive me to the food bank and 'volun-tell' me to work," recalled Campbell, who today serves as a Regions Bank Trust Advisor not far from the food bank his grandmother founded. "That instilled in me the importance of volunteering in our community."

Campbell's grandmother served as volunteer coordinator for the King's Storehouse until her death in 2014. Today, Campbell serves as board president of the faith-based nonprofit and makes sure his grandmother's vision continues.

"We serve two purposes: to put a plate of food in front of the hungry and to feed the souls of the spiritually lost," Campbell said.

and distributes them to food ministries from Texarkana to Dallas to Beaumont. Further, the Storehouse provides items such as toiletries and clothing at very low cost to low-income families.

The King's Storehouse receives donations

"We take the money raised from those sales to buy more food for the pantries we serve," Campbell said. "We have provided more than 15 million pounds of food since 1986."

Citing his passion for helping others, Regions Bank today announced that Campbell is the October 2017 recipient of the Regions Bank Better Life Award. The Better Life Award is the top honor given to a Regions associate for outstanding dedication and job performance, as well as exemplary involvement and commitment to the community.

Together with the recognition, Regions donates $1,000 in the name of the recipient to a nonprofit organization of the winner's choice. Campbell chose the King's Storehouse.

In addition to feeding the needy, Campbell serves as board president of the East Central Texas affiliate of the Susan G. Komen Foundation and vice president of the Tyler Soccer Association.

Before joining Regions in 2013, Campbell practiced law. For the past ten years, he has organized the Smith County Young Lawyers Association's National Adoption Day celebration for local families of newly adopted children. He is also active in his local church.
