

ManTech Names Sherrill I. Daily, Jr., Vice President of Portfolio Analysis

Experienced Business Development Leader Will Support Capture Activities for Key Programs

FAIRFAX, Va., Apr 23, 2010 (BUSINESS WIRE) --ManTech International Corporation (Nasdaq:MANT), a leading provider of technical and engineering services and solutions vital to the nation's interest and security, has named Sherrill I. Daily, Jr., Vice President of Portfolio Analysis. He will lead customer and competitor analyses to identify, evaluate and analyze new business opportunities and help formulate win strategies.

Before joining ManTech, Mr. Daily was responsible for competitor assessments and market analysis for priority programs and long-range strategic plans for Northrop Grumman's Information Systems sector and corporate headquarters. Prior to that, he supported Boeing's space and intelligence business leading global alliances, providing market assessments and competitive intelligence as senior manager for strategic management and analysis. He also served in senior marketing and business development positions at Hewlett-Packard and Compaq.

"Sherrill has a solid track record supporting successful business capture activities in our industry," said Sally A. Sullivan, Executive Vice President for Business Development, ManTech International Corporation. "His significant customer and competitor assessment experience will augment ManTech's already strong competitive assessment and business capture capabilities."

Mr. Daily earned a master of science degree in National Resource Strategy from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, National Defense University; a master's of business administration from Pepperdine University; and a bachelor of science degree from Auburn University.
