

Tidewater Plantation Community Association Signs with Frontier

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C., Feb 16, 2011 (BUSINESS WIRE) --

Frontier Communications (NYSE: FTR) announced today that Tidewater Plantation Community Association (TPCA) has expanded its suite of Frontier services to include a voice-Internet bundle for its housing units at the North Myrtle Beach residential community.

Frontier Communications currently supplies Internet and telephone services for the Tidewater Plantation Community Association's business operations. The Internet service is used to transport access control information and video surveillance for the 24-hour security service monitoring the various facilities.

"TPCA spent several years searching for the right partner to supply our residents with telephone and high-speed Internet in a community wide agreement at an attractive price, and with excellent support. We strongly believe we have found that partner in Frontier and look forward to a mutually beneficial relationship," said Tom Walker, president, TPCA.

"We are thrilled to have been selected as the communications provider of choice for the Tidewater Plantation Community Association's housing units. Frontier is a Fortune 500 company but a local business that prides itself on offering great products and services to businesses and residents throughout the Grand Strand area," said John Swallow, Frontier's vice president and general manager for the Carolinas.

About Tidewater Plantation and Golf Club
