Kim Pagel To Make Directorial Debut for the Animation Studio's First Feature

BOCA RATON, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Lani Pixels A/S, a cutting-edge 3D animation production company, announced today that actors Jacob Tremblay, Christopher Lloyd, Kenan Thompson and Mel Brooks have been confirmed as the leading voices for the animation studio's first full-length 3D animated film. Kim Pagel, co-founder of Lani Pixels, will make his directorial debut with the release of the film, expected in Fall 2019. Thomas Pagel, co-founder of Lani Pixels, is producing the untitled 3D-animated feature, with Jason Mirch co-producing. Verité Entertainment's René Veilleux and Donald Roman Lopez are associate producing. Lani Pixels is financing the project with Ominto, Inc., which recently acquired 40% of the leading animation development firm.

Written by Kim, the still untitled feature follows Patrick and Susan as they attempt to rescue their grandfather, Mr. Campbell, from supernatural forces that have invaded his isolated island. Guided by Jack, a charming Irish rogue, the siblings end up on a dangerous journey filled with magic and mystery. Production and additional casting are currently underway.

"It is an honor to be working with such a talented and dynamic cast on this project," said Kim Pagel, Founder and Co-CEO of Lani Pixels. "While this has been a passion project of mine for many years, the themes of family unity and courage in the face of adversity are equally as important today as they were when we started."

"Thanks to our world-class production team and our partners at Ominto, that dream is becoming a reality.
