Ashland to nominate Jerome A. Peribere as new independent director for 2018 annual meeting

COVINGTON, KY, November 28, 2017 - Ashland Global Holdings Inc. (NYSE: ASH) (the "company") today announced its intention to nominate Jerome A. Peribere as a new independent director for election at the company's upcoming 2018 Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the "2018 Annual Meeting"). If elected, it is also intended that Peribere will serve as a member of the compensation committee.

Consistent with the company's mandatory retirement policy set forth in its Corporate Governance Guidelines, George A. Schaefer Jr. will not be nominated for re-election to the board at the 2018 annual meeting. Ashland intends to nominate all other existing directors for re-election and expects the board will remain 11 directors.

Peribere has served as the president and chief executive officer of Sealed Air Corporation since March 2013 and previously worked for 35 years at The Dow Chemical Company, where he held a variety of leadership roles throughout the world. He previously served as president and chief executive officer of Dow Advanced Materials, where he led the integration of the Rohm and Haas acquisition and delivered significant growth and cost synergies. Prior to that, he spent the majority of his career in Dow AgroSciences.

"Jerome's extensive leadership and proven track record in the chemicals industry would make him a valuable addition to the Ashland board," said William A. Wulfsohn, Ashland chairman and chief executive officer. "With the addition of Jerome, six of the company's directors will have joined our board within the past three years, four of whom will have joined in the past year alone. These new directors underscore Ashland's commitment to regularly refreshing and strengthening the composition of our board. Our objective is to continue executing and delivering on our strategic plan to drive shareholder value and build momentum on our path to become the premier specialty chemicals company. We would also like to thank Cruiser Capital Advisors for their assistance in recommending Jerome to Ashland. We are confident that Jerome's industry experience, coupled with his deep understanding of global operations, strategy and integration, will benefit the Ashland board and all the company's stakeholders."

"I am honored to join Ashland's board of directors and look forward to working with the board and management team as Ashland continues to position itself as a leading global specialty chemicals company," said Peribere.

Charles J. Rose of Cruiser Capital Advisors said, "We believe that Ashland is a unique franchise with tremendous potential. Today's announcement gives us the utmost confidence that Ashland is committed and well positioned to deliver value to its shareholders. Jerome is a proven, effective leader, and we believe that adding his capabilities and experience to the Ashland board will further drive strong financial results."
