Stephen Mould, Head of Sotheby's Wine, Europe, said: "Prices for Burgundy soared, led by a 13-bottle mixed lot of 2009 DRC which more than doubled the high estimate to bring £54,050. Wines from Rousseau, Roumier and Coche-Dury also achieved stellar prices whilst Bordeaux performed strongly against the backdrop of the promising 2016 vintage unveiled at this year's en primeur campaign. Overall we saw excellent results, with a £1 million sale total exceeding pre-sale expectations, and the lead collection of Burgundy, Bordeaux and Rhône ascending to £640,000, 25% over the high estimate. This augurs well for the Don Stott Part III sale in New York on Saturday and our Finest and Rarest sale on 14 June."
