

CACI Awarded Contract to Provide Professional Services to Department of Navy Chief Information Officer

$82.8 Million Award Positions CACI to Continue CIO Support

Arlington, Va., April 23, 2008 – CACI International Inc (NYSE:CAI) announced today that it has been awarded an indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity (IDIQ) type contract with an estimated value of $82.8 million to continue its support for the Department of Navy Chief Information Officer (DON CIO). The four-year award (one base year, three option years) positions CACI to continue providing professional, technical, management, and administrative services to support the DON CIO as it guides the Department of Navy information management and information technology transformation initiatives and activities.

The DON CIO is the Navy's resource for directing efforts to create a joint, network-centric environment for the Department of Navy to deliver improved IT services to the organization in the form of advancing its information-sharing capabilities, securing networks, protecting privacy, and ensuring adequate infrastructure, capability, and performance. The DON CIO establishes and implements policy, guidance, and plans for sharing knowledge that enables effective and agile decision-making in support of U.S. Navy and Marines Corps forces.

CACI currently provides a full range of mission support services to the DON CIO office, including both technical and administrative assistance in support of the Navy enterprise worldwide. CACI's team has served the DON CIO since 1999, and as prime contractor has blended additional support groups to sustain seamless operations to assist the DON CIO in completing its mission. CACI support helps the DON CIO to improve capabilities and achieve its goals in a timely fashion.

According to Bill Fairl, CACI President of U.S. Operations, "CACI offers the Department of Navy Chief Information Officer a unique combination of technical expertise and innovative thought leadership, plus a track record of success. We have a thorough understanding of all DON CIO requirements and processes and can provide proven solutions for helping the DON CIO achieve knowledge dominance for our sailors and marines."

Paul Cofoni, CACI President and Chief Executive Officer, said, "CACI is proud to continue assisting the Department of Navy in delivering secure, interoperable, and integrated information management and information technology capabilities to our nation's warfighters. We are dedicated to delivering valuable and strategic services with experienced personnel to sustain and improve critical Navy operations and resources."

CACI International Inc provides the IT and network solutions needed to prevail in today's new era of national security, intelligence, and e-government. From systems integration and managed network solutions to knowledge management, engineering, simulation, and information assurance, we deliver the IT applications and infrastructures our federal customers use to improve communications and collaboration, secure the integrity of information systems and networks, enhance data collection and analysis, and increase efficiency and mission effectiveness. Our solutions lead the transformation of national security and intelligence, assure homeland security, enhance decision-making, and help government to work smarter, faster, and more responsively. CACI is a member of the Fortune 1000 Largest Companies of 2007 and the Russell 2000 index. CACI provides dynamic careers for approximately 11,800 employees working in over 120 offices in the U.S. and Europe. CACI is the IT provider for a networked world. Visit CACI on the web at www.caci.com.

There are statements made herein which do not address historical facts, and therefore could be interpreted to be forward-looking statements as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements are subject to factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from anticipated results. The factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated include, but are not limited to, the following: regional and national economic conditions in the United States and the United Kingdom, including conditions that result from terrorist activities or war; failure to achieve contract awards in connection with recompetes for present business and/or competition for new business; the risks and uncertainties associated with client interest in and purchases of new products and/or services; continued funding of U.S. government or other public sector projects in the event of a priority need for funds, such as homeland security, the war on terrorism or rebuilding Iraq; government contract procurement (such as bid protest, small business set asides, etc.) and termination risks; the results of government investigations into allegations of improper actions related to the provision of services in support of U.S. military operations in Iraq; individual business decisions of our clients; paradigm shifts in technology; competitive factors such as pricing pressures and/or competition to hire and retain employees (particularly those with security clearances); material changes in laws or regulations applicable to our businesses, particularly in connection with (i) government contracts for services, (ii) outsourcing of activities that have been performed by the government, and (iii) competition for task orders under Government Wide Acquisition Contracts ("GWACs") and/or schedule contracts with the General Services Administration; our own ability to achieve the objectives of near term or long range business plans; and other risks described in the company's Securities and Exchange Commission filings.

#

For investor information contact:

David Dragics
Senior Vice President, Investor Relations
(866) 606-3471
ddragics@caci.com

For other information contact:

Jody Brown
Executive Vice President, Public Relations
(703) 841-7801
jbrown@caci.com