

CACI Awarded $29 Million Prime Contract to Support Customs and Border Protection for Department of Homeland Security

ARLINGTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE:CACI) announced today that it has been awarded a $29 million task order to support the Passenger System Program Office (PSPO) of the Department of Homeland Security's (DHS) U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) agency. The work was awarded through the EAGLE contract vehicle's Functional Category 5 (Management Support Services) and is for five years (one base year, four option years). This new business for CACI expands the support that the company's business system solutions provide to DHS.

Customs and Border Protection is one of DHS's largest and most complex components, with a priority mission of keeping terrorists and their weapons out of the United States. The PSPO is responsible for systems that support the CBP mission, especially processing travelers at points of entry throughout the nation. This work that CACI will perform provides overarching project support and security to assist PSPO with the development of new—and maintenance of the existing—CBP computer and automated application systems involved in passing data throughout the network, building a database, and maintaining computer security.

CACI has supported the DHS mission since 2002, providing IT solutions through leadership, program support, innovation, and quality services under a variety of contracts. For this task order, the company will draw on its rich history of proven project management expertise and a solid team of partners with deep knowledge of the CBP mission. The CACI team brings critical staff that will help PSPO carry out its essential tasks with seamless continuity of service and no disruption of operations.

Bill Fairl, CACI's President of U.S. Operations, said, "This award significantly expands our presence in the Department of Homeland Security in the very critical arena of border security. In helping to safeguard our country, we increase our ability to be a national asset for national priorities."

According to CACI President and CEO Paul Cofoni, "The threats to America's borders and homeland are always present, and CACI works at the technological heart of efforts to counter these dangers. We are able to provide the expertise in support of CBP's mission of keeping terrorists and their weapons out of the United States."

CACI provides professional services and IT solutions needed to prevail in the areas of defense, intelligence, homeland security, and IT modernization and government transformation. We deliver enterprise IT and network services; data, information, and knowledge management services; business system solutions; logistics and material readiness; C4ISR services; cyber solutions; integrated security and intelligence solutions; and program management and SETA support services. CACI services and solutions help our federal clients provide for national security, improve communications and collaboration, secure the integrity of information systems and networks, enhance data collection and analysis, and increase efficiency and mission effectiveness. CACI is a member of the Fortune 1000 Largest Companies and the Russell 2000 index. CACI provides dynamic careers for approximately 13,400 employees working in over 120 offices in the U.S. and Europe. Visit CACI on the web at www.caci.com and www.asymmetricthreat.net.

There are statements made herein which do not address historical facts, and therefore could be interpreted to be forward-looking statements as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements are subject to factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from anticipated results. The factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated include, but are not limited to, the following: regional and national economic conditions in the United States and the United Kingdom, including conditions that result from a prolonged recession; terrorist activities or war; changes in interest rates; currency fluctuations; significant fluctuations in the equity markets; changes in our effective tax rate; valuation of contingent consideration in connection with business combinations; failure to achieve contract awards in connection with recompetes for present business and/or competition for new business; the risks and uncertainties associated with client interest in and purchases of new products and/or services; continued funding of U.S. government or other public sector projects, based on a change in spending patterns, or in the event of a priority need for funds, such as homeland security, the war on terrorism or rebuilding Iraq, or an economic stimulus package; government contract procurement (such as bid protest, small business set asides, loss of work due to organizational conflicts of interest, etc.) and termination risks; the results of government investigations into allegations of improper actions related to the provision of services in support of U.S. military operations in Iraq; the results of government audit and reviews conducted by the Defense Contract Audit Agency or other governmental entities with cognizant oversight; the insourcing of contractor positions by the government; individual business decisions of our clients; paradigm shifts in technology; competitive factors such as pricing pressures and/or competition to hire and retain employees (particularly those with security clearances); market speculation regarding our continued independence; material changes in laws or regulations applicable to our businesses, particularly in connection with (i) government contracts for services, (ii) outsourcing of activities that have been performed by the government, and (iii) competition for task orders under Government Wide Acquisition Contracts ("GWACs") and/or schedule contracts with the General Services Administration; the ability to integrate the operations of our recent acquisitions; our own ability to achieve the objectives of near term or long range business plans; and other risks described in the Company's Securities and Exchange Commission filings.

CACI International Inc

Corporate Communications and Media:

Jody Brown, Executive Vice President, Public Relations, 703-841-7801

jbrown@caci.com

or

Investor Relations:

David Dragics, Senior Vice President, Investor Relations, 866-606-3471

ddragics@caci.com

Source: CACI International Inc

News Provided by Acquire Media