

CACI Appoints Gregory Scovel as Vice President of Cyber Law Enforcement and Force Protection

Former Acting Director of Naval Criminal Investigative Service to Support Company's Activities in Counterintelligence, Combating Terrorism, Law Enforcement, and Analysis

Arlington, VA, May 27, 2010 - CACI International Inc (NYSE:CACI) announced today that it has appointed Mr. Gregory Scovel, Former Acting Director of the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS), as Vice President of the Cyber Law Enforcement and Force Protection Division in the company's Cyber Solutions Group. In this position, Mr. Scovel will be responsible for developing business opportunities and providing strategic direction in areas such as cyber and force protection with the Armed Forces' law enforcement community, cyber forensics, and combating terrorism.

Mr. Scovel has more than 30 years of experience with the NCIS. During his tenure, the agency produced a significant record of exemplary successes in the areas of counterintelligence, combating terrorism, law enforcement, and analysis. As a member of the NCIS Executive Staff since 2001 – with over six years in the Senior Executive Service (SES) – he was instrumental in the transformation of the NCIS to a proactive and progressive agency. His expertise in teaming with industry to protect industrial sites and laboratories assisted the development of critical and sensitive technologies for the Department of Navy.

As a trusted advisor to senior executives in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of the Navy, and throughout the U.S. Armed Forces, Mr. Scovel has consistently brought proven communication, coordination, and consensus building skills to the public sector. Additionally, Mr. Scovel served seven years in the U.S. Navy Reserve as an intelligence officer.

"I'm very pleased to support CACI's dedicated efforts in the cyber solutions arena," Mr. Scovel said. "I look forward to using my experience and skill sets to reinforce the company's work in areas such as IT security, countering the asymmetric threat, and helping to protect our nation's logistics supply chain."

CACI President and Chief Executive Officer Paul Cofoni said, "We welcome Mr. Scovel to CACI. His remarkable knowledge base and hands-on expertise, gained in a three decades-long tenure with the Naval Criminal Investigative Service, will contribute significantly to our rapidly developing cyber solutions capability."

CACI provides professional services and IT solutions needed to prevail in the defense, intelligence, homeland security, and federal civilian government arenas. We deliver enterprise IT and network services; data, information, and knowledge management services; business system solutions; logistics and material readiness; C4ISR integration services; cyber solutions; integrated security and intelligence solutions; and program management and SETA support services. CACI services and solutions help our federal clients provide for national security, improve communications and collaboration, secure the integrity of information systems and networks, enhance data collection and analysis, and increase efficiency and mission effectiveness. CACI is a member of the Fortune 1000 Largest Companies and the Russell 2000 index. CACI provides dynamic careers for approximately 13,100 employees working in over 120 offices in the U.S. and Europe. Visit CACI on the web at www.caci.com and www.asymmetricthreat.net.

There are statements made herein which do not address historical facts, and therefore could be interpreted to be forward-looking statements as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements are subject to factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from anticipated results. The factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated include, but are not limited to, the following: regional and national economic conditions in the United States and the United Kingdom, including conditions that result from a prolonged recession; terrorist activities or war; changes in interest rates; currency fluctuations; significant fluctuations in the equity markets; failure to achieve contract awards in connection with recompetes for present business and/or competition for new business; the risks and uncertainties associated with client interest in and purchases of new products and/or services; continued funding of U.S. government or other public sector projects, based on a change in spending patterns, or in the event of a priority need for funds, such as homeland security, the war on terrorism or rebuilding Iraq; or an economic stimulus package; government contract procurement (such as bid protest, small business set asides, loss of work due to organizational conflicts of interest, etc.) and termination risks; the results of government investigations into allegations of improper actions related to the provision of services in support of U.S. military operations in Iraq; the results of government audit and reviews conducted by the Defense Contract Audit Agency or other government entities with cognizant oversight; individual business decisions of our clients; paradigm shifts in technology; competitive factors such as pricing pressures and/or competition to hire and retain employees (particularly those with security clearances); market speculation regarding our continued independence; material changes in laws or regulations applicable to our businesses, particularly in connection with (i) government contracts for services, (ii) outsourcing of activities that have been performed by the government, (iii) competition for task orders under Government Wide Acquisition Contracts ("GWACs") and/or schedule contracts with the General Services Administration; and (iv) accounting for convertible debt instruments; our own ability to achieve the objectives of near term or long range business plans; and other risks described in the company's Securities and Exchange Commission filings.

#

For investor information contact:

David Dragics
Senior Vice President, Investor Relations
(866) 606-3471
ddragics@caci.com

For other information contact:

Jody Brown
Executive Vice President, Public Relations
(703) 841-7801
jbrown@caci.com