LINDON, Utah, Aug 06, 2008 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX News Network/ -- The SCO Group, Inc., (Pink Sheets: SCOXQ), a leading provider of UNIX(R) software technology and mobile services, today announced that AT&T has granted certification to SCO for its new Me Inc. Mobile product to run on the AT&T digital network as a Certified Solution. Me Inc. Mobile is exclusively distributed under the name "FCmobilelife," by FranklinCovey, a global leader in effectiveness training, productivity tools and assessment services. FCmobilelife is a new and unique mobile collaboration tool enabling smart phone and PC users to communicate with powerful multimedia blogs, set goals and appointments real-time, and create and delegate to-do lists whenever and wherever. Unlike any other current mobile solutions, FCmobilelife allows users to setup appointments and meetings with confidence through its unique busy search function.

AT&T certification is granted after rigorous testing by AT&T labs to ensure compliancy and functionality on the AT&T digital network. "AT&T customers value application certification as it ensures smooth interoperability with their Blackberry(R) and Windows(R) Mobile smart phones and gives them an excellent experience on FCmobilelife and AT&T's network," said Jeff Hunsaker, president and chief operating officer for SCO Operations. "With this new certification, AT&T mobile solution providers can recommend FCmobilelife with confidence to AT&T mobile users," said Hunsaker.

"This is a significant and positive step forward for SCO's mobile initiatives," said Shaun Cutler, Senior Director of Mobile Solutions for SCO. "SCO has worked extensively with the AT&T Enterprise Solution Certification program to achieve certification of this application as a 'Certified Solution' and is pleased to see it promoted through the AT&T network as well as the AT&T Enterprise Sales Team," said Cutler. "FCmobilelife has seen hundreds of new users join each week and improve their personal and business productivity."
