

CDI Makes InformationWeek 500 List of Top Technology Innovators

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4, 2011 /PRNewswire/ -- CDI Corporation (NYSE: CDI) announced today that it has been named to the 2011 InformationWeek 500, InformationWeek's annual listing of the nation's most innovative business technology users. This is CDI's eleventh consecutive year on the list.

InformationWeek identifies and honors the nation's most innovative users of information technology with its annual 500 listing and also tracks the technology, strategies, investments and administrative practices of America's best-known companies. The InformationWeek 500 list is unique among corporate rankings because it spotlights the power of innovation in information technology, rather than simply identifying the biggest spenders.

"Our team of information technology professionals works to help meet the business technology needs of our employees and clients," said Steve Levenkron, CDI's vice president of enterprise computing services. "We continuously evaluate our programs to look for areas where we can improve efficiencies."
