

Terri Anne Powers

Director, North American Investor Relations, Veolia Environnement

Terri Anne Powers is director of North American investor relations for Paris-based Veolia Environnement (Paris Euronext: VIE; NYSE: VE), which provides environmental solutions to municipal and industrial clients in the areas of water, waste and energy management in 50+ countries. She joined Veolia in 2009.

Previously, Powers spent seven years as an associate sell-side analyst covering healthcare distribution and services equities at Robert W. Baird and Prudential Securities. She started her career as a chemist conducting research and development in the pharmaceutical industry. Her roles included supervisor of regulatory submissions and market research analyst, including five years at the G.D. Searle & Co. unit of Monsanto.

Powers holds a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Alma College and received her MBA in finance and strategic management from the University of Chicago's Booth School of Business. She is an active member of the National Investor Relations Institute (NIRI), serves on the NIRI-Chicago board, and was co-chair of the 2014 IR Workshop.