

DynCorp International and AECOM NSP JV Selected on $9.7 Billion Translation and Interpretation Contract

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (July 11, 2011) - DynCorp International (DI) and AECOM today announced that Global Linguist Solutions (GLS), a joint venture between DI and AECOM's NSP unit, has been selected as one of six providers that will compete for task orders on the $9.7 billion Defense Language Interpretation Translation Enterprise (DLITE) contract.

Awarded by the Department of the Army on July 1, 2011, the multiple award Indefinite Delivery Indefinite Quantity (IDIQ) hybrid contract provides translation and interpretation services for personnel, equipment, supplies, facilities, transportation, tools, materials, supervision and other items and any other non-personal services necessary to perform language interpretation and translation services for Force Projection Operations mission area only.

GLS has been providing translation and interpretation services to the U.S. Army in Iraq and other areas in the Gulf Region since 2008. The DLITE contract will cover translation services worldwide.

GLS combines the core competencies of DynCorp International and AECOM NSP to offer INSCOM an innovative management-services solution for its linguist program. DI has a 60-year history supporting and sustaining large-scale personnel deployments in high-threat zones, and includes its current experience in recruiting and sustaining more than 3,000 employees, including linguists, in Iraq. AECOM NSP, through its acquisition of McNeil Technologies, has 21 years of experience in recruiting, deploying, and sustaining linguists in various parts of the world, including Iraq. It possesses unique language research, development, and testing capabilities in less-commonly taught languages, including all languages required by the contract.
