

Genomic Health Announces National Payor Agreement With UnitedHealthcare Insurance Company

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Jan 10, 2007 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX News Network/ -- Genomic Health, Inc. (Nasdaq: GHDX) today announced that the company has signed a national payor contract with United HealthCare Insurance Company ("UnitedHealthcare"), an affiliate of UnitedHealth Group (NYSE: UNH), for Oncotype DX, the company's test service that quantifies the likelihood of breast cancer recurrence and predicts the likelihood of chemotherapy benefit for a large portion of early-stage breast cancer patients. UnitedHealthcare is one of the nation's largest private payors. Contracts in place for Oncotype DX have established coverage for over 98 million lives.

The agreement establishes coverage across all of UnitedHealthcare's plans, for women with early-stage breast cancer. Coverage is scheduled to become effective for claims for services performed on or after January 3, 2007.
