Hill International Selected to Support Major Expansion at the Piraeus Port Authority in Greece

PHILADELPHIA and ATHENS, Greece, July 07, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Hill International (NYSE:HIL), the global leader in managing construction risk, announced today that it has received a contract to provide construction supervision services in support of a €350 million ($399 million) Capital Expenditure Program for the Piraeus Port Authority in Greece. The four-year contract has an estimated value to Hill of approximately €2.4 million ($2.7 million).

The Port of Piraeus is the largest port in Greece, the largest passenger port in Europe and the third busiest port in the world. Spanning more than 27 kilometers (16.7 miles) along the coast, it has an aggregate area exceeding 5 million square meters (53.8 million square feet). The Capital Expenditure Program entails upgrading and expanding the port's infrastructure, including a new cruise terminal, dredging projects and facilities improvements. The Program, expected to be complete by August 2021, will elevate the Port's status as a key transportation hub in Europe, triggering further investments into other sectors of the economy. Hill was appointed as the Port Authority's Independent Engineer, monitoring all aspects of the implementation of the Capital Expenditure Program.

"This is a major foreign direct investment and a project of national significance for Greece," said Emmanouil Sigalas, Vice President with Hill International. "We are honored by this appointment and we look forward to supporting its delivery," added Sigalas.

Hill International, with 3,300 professionals in more than 50 offices worldwide, provides program management, project management, construction management and other consulting services primarily to the buildings, transportation, environmental, energy and industrial markets. Engineering News-Record magazine recently ranked Hill as the eighth largest construction management firm in the United States.
