Hercules Expects to Increase Net Investment Income Through Continued Proactive Management of Its Capital Structure

Anticipated Result in Annual Interest Expense Savings of $3.0 Million, or $0.04 EPS per annum

Partial Redemption of the Company's 7.00% Senior Unsecured Notes due in September 2019 is Expected to be Accretive to Net Investment Income Per Share During 2016

PALO ALTO, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Hercules Technology Growth Capital, Inc. (NYSE: HTGC) ("Hercules" or the "Company"), the leading specialty financing provider to innovative venture growth stage companies backed by leading venture capital firms, today announced completion of the previously-announced redemption of $40.0 million of the $85.9 million in issued and outstanding aggregate principal amount of the Company's 7.00% Senior Unsecured Notes due September 2019 (the "Notes")¹.

The partial redemption of the Notes will result in an annual interest expense savings of approximately $3.0 million, prior to a one-time non-cash expense in the fourth quarter of 2015, attributed to acceleration of unamortized original debt issuance costs of approximately $825,000, or $0.01 per share of additional expense during the quarter. Hercules may elect to complete additional redemptions of its 7.0% 2019 Notes throughout calendar year 2016, subject to market conditions and its anticipated liquidity position. The Company will provide notice for, and complete all, redemptions in compliance with the terms of the Indenture.

"We continue to be extremely proactive in the management of our overall capital structure as we work to continue to optimize the Company's balance sheet, particularly as the interest rate environment changes," stated Mark R. Harris, chief financial officer at Hercules. "As rising interest rates are expected to benefit our net investment income, we are also opportunistically taking steps to lower our cost of financing on the right side of the ledger. By actively managing our liquidity and balance sheet, we continue to further strengthen Hercules' balance sheet and lower our cost of financing while also generating positive earnings growth to our investors, despite the one-time, non-cash expense of approximately $0.01 per share in Q4 2015. The partial retirement of our 7.00% 2019 Notes will become immediately accretive to earnings per share in 2016 and beyond. The strength of our platform and balance sheet continues to be one of Hercules' competitive advantages and is a critical component to supporting our future growth objectives."
