Littelfuse Honors Arrow Electronics as 2016 Volume Distributor of the Year

Award recognizes sales and customer growth, focus product sales, and design wins

CHICAGO, May 22, 2017 — Littelfuse, Inc., the global leader in circuit protection, has named Arrow Electronics its Volume Distributor of the Year for the second consecutive year. Littelfuse presented the award to Arrow Electronics at last week's Electronic Distribution Show (EDS) in Las Vegas, Nevada.

“We are thrilled to recognize Arrow Electronics for their outstanding work as a Littelfuse channel partner,” said Dave Heinzmann, president and chief executive officer of Littelfuse. “Arrow has helped our company drive sales, demand and operational excellence. Strong alignment with our strategic partners is imperative as we continue to grow our company and expand its product portfolio.”

Arrow Electronics is a global provider of products, services and solutions to industrial and commercial users of electronic components and enterprise computing solutions. The company serves as a supply channel partner for over 125,000 commercial customers, original equipment and contract manufacturers through a global network of more than 465 locations serving over 90 countries.

“Arrow is honored to receive the award for Volume Distributor of the Year from Littelfuse for the second year in a row,” said Alan Bird, president of Arrow’s Americas components business. “Arrow and Littelfuse have a long history of collaboration, and this award is a testament to the great teamwork and dedication to servicing our broad customer base. We look forward to our continued collaboration and working with Littelfuse to deliver innovative solutions to our customers.”

Littelfuse selects award winners based on a variety of distributor performance metrics including overall sales growth, focus product sales, growth in the number of customers served, and the number and quality of creative marketing campaigns that reach end customers.
