Numerex to Exhibit and Present at IoT Evolution Expo

Keynote Presentation and Solutions Demonstrations Illustrate Industry Leadership

ATLANTA, Jan. 23, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Numerex Corp (NASDAQ:NMRX), a leading provider of Internet of Things (IoT) solutions, today announced that it would be exhibiting and presenting at the IoT Evolution Expo February 7-10, 2017 in Fort Lauderdale, FL. This will be IoT Evolution's 17th Event since 2009. Numerex is proud to be a Diamond Sponsor of the event featuring a keynote presentation and solutions demonstrations at booth #4003. The Expo aims to drive business transformation through the Internet of Things. In addition, IoT Evolution Expo allows attendees to meet with the IoT ecosystem and worldwide business leaders and learn how to leverage the power of the IoT to transform and move their business forward.

In addition to attending and exhibiting the Expo, Numerex will hold a keynote address on Wednesday, February 8th at 3:30 pm entitled "Keeping it Real, the Reality of the IoT," from Numerex Chief Operating Officer Kelly Gay. In addition to the keynote address, Numerex will be represented in various sessions - ranging from tank monitoring and asset tracking to network services - by Numerex executives Sri Ramachandran, Shu Gan, and Wayne Stgardt.

Kelly Gay, Chief Operating Officer, commented, "Numerex is excited to be a Diamond Sponsor of IoT Evolution and have the opportunity to showcase our solutions at the Expo as well as be a part of the knowledge transfer and participate as speakers. We look forward to networking with IoT executives and interfacing with industry leaders at this one-of-a-kind event."

On the show floor, Numerex will be displaying its innovative, managed IoT Solutions featuring iTank™, a remote tank monitoring solution, nxHYBRID™ asset tracking solution featuring cellular/satellite dual mode capabilities, and nxFAST™ platform and network services, which allow network connectivity and subscription and connection management for the IoT, among many others.
