

Bob Costas to Host First Ever American Giving Awards Presented by Chase

Program to Air at 8 p.m. ET Dec. 10 on NBC

$2 Million in Chase Grants to be Given to Five Charities Selected by Fans of Chase Community Giving on Facebook

LOS ANGELES, CA, November 9, 2011 - Chase, Dick Clark Productions and Intersport announced today their joint effort to produce the first ever American Giving Awards (AGAs). Hosted by 20-time Emmy Award-winner Bob Costas, the AGAs will be broadcast on NBC Saturday, December 10, 2011, 8:00pm EST, from the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion in downtown Los Angeles.

"I'm happy to be a part of a program that promises some excellent entertainment in support of some very worthy causes," said Bob Costas.

Chase will grant a total of $2 million to the five featured charitable organizations, which were selected from a list of 25 previous CCG grant recipients with the help of some of Chase's online customers as well as Chase Community Giving (CCG) Facebook fans. The organization with the most votes will receive a $1 million grant, the runner-up will be granted $500,000, a third organization will receive a $250,000 grant and two will be given $125,000 grants.

"We are delighted to help create the first-ever American Giving Awards and celebrate these outstanding past Chase Community Giving winners," said Kimberly Davis, President of the JPMorgan Chase Foundation. "We hope this exciting television event will draw even more support for all of the causes featured and encourage Americans everywhere to get involved and support the thousands of local organizations making a difference in communities across the country everyday."

The five finalists to be honored at the AGAs each represent one of the five categories recognizing the "building blocks" of our communities:

Educators & Mentors

- Let's Get Ready, Inc., of New York, NY, works to expand college access for motivated, low-income high school students by providing free SAT preparation and college admission counseling.

Champions of Health & Wellness

- To Write Love on Her Arms, of Cocoa, FL, is dedicated to presenting hope and finding help for people struggling with depression, addiction, self-injury and suicide. TWLOHA exists to encourage, inform, inspire and also to invest directly into treatment and recovery.

Heroes & Leaders

- Wish Upon a Hero Foundation, Inc., of Moorestown, NJ, utilizes social media and technology to connect those in need of support, including patients with long-term illnesses, military families, and natural disaster survivors, with people who can fulfill their wishes and truly change their lives.

Community Builders

- Move for Hunger, Inc., of Neptune, NJ, works with moving companies across America to pick up the unopened, non-perishable food items from people during the moving process and deliver it to their local food banks.

Youth Developers

- Matthew Shepard Foundation, of Casper, WY, was created in the memory of anti-gay hate crime victim Matthew Shepard to encourage respect for human dignity and difference by raising awareness, opening dialogues, and promoting positive change.

Chase Community Giving leverages the power of social media to "crowdsource" how charitable dollars should be allocated. This program was developed by Chase to complement its charitable giving, which totals over $150 million annually. Chase

Community Giving relies on its nearly 3 million fans on Facebook to help decide which local nonprofits should receive grant money from Chase. Since its inception in 2009, CCG fans have helped Chase award over $15 million to 400 local charities across the country representing causes such as building schools in Africa, providing food and shelter to the homeless, and supporting the performing arts.

The final round of voting for the American Giving Awards opens on December 1, 2011 and closes on December 8, 2011.

During the voting period, participants may vote for charities on Facebook and in some cases on the Chase.com platform. For more information on the program and how to vote, please visit <http://apps.facebook.com/chasecommunitygiving>.
