

RCN Announces Winner of MTV2 Local VJ contest

Back Bay resident Chelsea Wolf to be Boston's face for pop culture news

Boston – March 7, 2007 – RCN Boston, a leading provider of triple-play cable, high-speed internet and phone services, today announced Back Bay resident Chelsea Wolf as the winner of its MTV2 Local VJ contest. Wolf was proclaimed the winner by Julie Kramer of WFNX Radio at The Roxy in Boston on Friday, February 16. Wolf will begin filming locally for MTV2 in the spring of 2007.

Auditions for the contest, a search for the "local face of MTV2," were held on September 5, 2006. Wolf beat more than 400 young applicants from the Greater Boston area who also auditioned for the chance to represent the local music scene as Boston's MTV2 Local VJ. As part of her winnings, Wolf received a trip to New York City to tour the MTV studios.

"RCN congratulates Chelsea on becoming the VJ for MTV2 here in Boston," said Paul Panagopolous, Marketing Manager for RCN Boston. "Being able to offer this type of special opportunity to one of RCN Boston's best customer bases—the young, hip viewers of the MTV Network—is such a great feeling. We look forward to Chelsea's debut this spring in her new role as the face of youth and pop culture in Boston."

"I am so excited to be the new MTV2 Local VJ for Boston – this has always been a dream of mine!" said Wolf. "I'd especially like to thank RCN for making this happen. Everyone from RCN and MTV2 has been extremely supportive of me and wonderful to work with. I'm really looking forward to getting started in the spring!"

Originally from Canandaigua, New York, Wolf recently moved to Boston after graduating from Hofstra University.
