

TRANSACT TECHNOLOGIES WINS DEFAULT STATUS AT IGT

Epic 950® will be installed as the standard ticket printer in all new IGT slot machines and video platforms

HAMDEN, CT, April 7, 2008 – TransAct Technologies Incorporated (NASDAQ: TACT), a global leader in market-specific printers for transaction based industries, today announced that IGT, a subsidiary of International Game Technology (NYSE: IGT), has selected TransAct's Epic 950® printer as the default Ticket-In Ticket-Out printer for all new IGT games. The term of the default status will begin immediately and extend through June 30, 2010.

Bart C. Shuldman, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of TransAct Technologies, said, "This is a historic win for TransAct and it comes just as we believe the upgrade cycle for server-based gaming is about to begin. We truly appreciate the opportunity IGT is giving us. We thank them for their decision and confidence in TransAct."

TransAct's Epic 950® combines groundbreaking marketing capabilities, sophisticated technical advances, and robust engineering in a single printer. IGT's decision to select the Epic 950® as its default printer is a validation of TransAct's technology, support, and product development as best-in-class.
