Maverick AV Solutions Improves Conference Room Collaboration with HARMAN Professional Solutions

AMX Acendo series now available to U.S. customers through new agreement

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 27, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Maverick AV Solutions, a specialized solution business of Tech Data (Nasdaq: TECD), today announced a distribution agreement with HARMAN Professional Solutions to distribute their AMX Acendo series of room collaboration solutions in the U.S. The AMX Acendo series provides comprehensive conference room solutions for huddle spaces and small meeting rooms that allow employees to collaborate quickly and efficiently with physical attendees and colleagues around the world. These solutions enable Maverick customers to provide their end-user clientele with simple and seamless video conferencing experiences with superior sound.

The AMX Acendo series includes:

- AMX Acendo Vibe: an elegantly designed premium conferencing soundbar that offers a wide-angle 110° camera, JBL speakers, far-field microphones and USB and Bluetooth connectivity.
- AMX Acendo Core: an open-platform business collaboration that includes one-click Skype for Business and wireless screen sharing using AirPlay or Google Cast. The Acendo Core also offers a web browser, document viewers and built-in room booking.
- AMX Acendo Book: a standalone room scheduling panel that simplifies room booking, including an interface and availability lights that change colors to show availability. Acendo Book integrates with Microsoft Exchange, Office 365 and Google Calendar.

"Harman's AMX Acendo series enables our resellers to help their clients simplify meetings in conference rooms and huddle spaces. These solutions are a great addition to our portfolio, which enables true collaboration across the world," said Jon Sidwick, vice president, Maverick AV Solutions, at Tech Data. "This is our first new vendor signing since the launch of Maverick AV Solutions in the U.S., and we look forward to bringing our collaboration expertise to our channel partners in the region."
