Vonage Executives to Discuss the Next Stage of Cloud Transformation at Enterprise Connect 2017

Named Best of Enterprise Connect Finalist for the Nexmo Voice API

HOLMDEL, N.J., March 20, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Vonage (NYSE: VG), a leading provider of cloud communications for business, will expand upon its vision for the future of business communications through multiple speaking engagements at Enterprise Connect 2017. Vonage was also named a finalist for the Best of Enterprise Connect Award for the Nexmo Voice API. Enterprise Connect takes place March 27-30 at the Gaylord Palms Convention Center in Orlando, FL.

Vonage CEO Alan Masarek will participate in a general session panel entitled "What Role \(If Any\) Should Cloud Communications Play in Your Enterprise?", which will address the benefits of -- and differences between -- cloud communications and cloud services, and the impact of each for enterprise businesses in the future.

"The evolving needs of today's businesses demand the ability for employees to stay seamlessly connected to each other, the customers they serve, and the applications they use every day on any device, no matter where or how they choose to work," said Mr. Masarek. "To meet these growing needs, the future of cloud communications will not only include solutions for fully integrated, end-to-end business communications, but also the ability to engage with customers in new and more meaningful ways, empowering businesses to strategically compete in their industries.

"Not only does the cloud allow businesses to increase productivity, mobility and scalability, but it also enables them to provide their customers with personalized, contextual and exceptional experience, service and support, at every touchpoint, every time."

Additional Vonage speaking engagements at Enterprise Connect include:

APIs and Embedded Communications: The Wave of the Future?

March 27, 1:00pm - Tony Jamous, President, Nexmo, the Vonage API Platform

Mock RFP: Cloud/Hybrid Cloud Communications Procurement State of the Art

March 27, 2:00pm - Jeff Savage, Vice President, Enterprise

SD-WAN: Why It's the Right Fit for the Cloud Era

March 28, 8:00am - Sanjay Srinivasan, VP & Chief Technology Architect Business Engineering

The Future of Integrated Communications

March 28, 3:00pm - Jeff Savage, Vice President, Enterprise

Where is the UCaaS Industry Headed?

March 29, 2:00pm - Omar Javaid, Chief Product Officer

When to Use Communications APIs - and When Not To

March 29, 3:15pm - Tony Jamous, President, Nexmo, the Vonage API Platform

In addition to lending thought leadership perspective to these panel sessions scheduled throughout the week, Vonage will also host a booth (#418) on the expo show floor, where attendees will have the opportunity to participate in interactive product demos and discussions with the Company's executive team.

The Nexmo Voice API, which was named a finalist for the 2017 Best of Enterprise Connect Award, is the easiest way to build high-quality voice applications in the cloud. Integrated with Vonage's carrier-grade network, which terminates 15 billion minutes of global voice traffic annually to landline and mobile phones, the new Nexmo Voice API provides a higher quality programmable voice experience than what is competitively available in the market today. With the Nexmo Voice API, developers have the ability to effortlessly create modern voice capabilities with open, agile and globally scalable architectures, enabling customized communications solutions to enrich customer conversations and deepen customer relationships.

The winner of the Best of Enterprise Connect Award will be announced during an awards ceremony on Wednesday, March 29.
