- -- Positive Net Lines Driven by BasicTalk and Lowest Churn Since 2010 -- -- Adjusted EBITDA<sup>1</sup> of $27 Million --
- -- Net Income of $12 Million or $0.06 per Share Excluding Adjustments<sup>2</sup> -- Revenue of $205 Million --

Holmdel, NJ, July 31, 2013 - Vonage Holdings Corp. (NYSE: VG), a leading provider of communications services connecting people through cloud-connected devices worldwide, today announced results for the second quarter ended June 30, 2013.

Vonage reported adjusted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA")<sup>1</sup> of $27 million, down from $34 million sequentially, reflecting planned investments in the national launch of the new BasicTalk brand, and down from $35 million in the year ago quarter. The Company reported income from operations of $14 million, down from $22 million sequentially and up from a loss of $3 million in the year ago quarter.

Net income, excluding adjustments<sup>2</sup> was $12 million or $0.06 per share, down from $21 million or $0.10 per share sequentially and down from $21 million or $0.09 per share in the year ago quarter. GAAP net income was $7 million or $0.04 per share, down from $13 million or $0.06 per share sequentially and up from a net loss of $3 million or $0.01 per share in the year ago period, which included a one-time adjustment of software assets.

Commenting on the quarter, Marc Lefar, Vonage Chief Executive Officer said, "We are making steady progress on our growth priorities highlighted by a strong early response to BasicTalk, launched in May, which contributed to higher sequential gross line additions and positive net lines for the quarter. Our core business results were solid. Churn declined to 2.4% - its lowest level since 2010, and adjusted EBITDA was in line with our expectations.

Consistent with our stated strategy, we are continuing to invest in our growth priorities and are excited about the opportunities for long term revenue growth in Brazil and from our mobile platform. We are balancing this investment in growth with the return of capital to shareholders, having repurchased five million shares of our stock during the quarter. We remain on target to complete our $100 million buyback by the end of 2014."

Second Quarter Financial and Operating Results

Revenue was $205 million, down from $209 million sequentially and $212 million from the prior year period primarily due to the impact of prior period line losses, retention activities, and the non-operational impact of lower Universal Service Fund ("USF") fees, which contributed $1 million of the decline sequentially and $3 million of the decline from the prior year. ARPU was $29.06, down from $29.61 sequentially and $29.98 in the prior year, primarily due to lower USF fees and rate plan mix, which includes the impact of incremental volume from the new BasicTalk plan.

Direct cost of telephony services ("COTS") was $54 million, down from $55 million sequentially and down from $58 million in the year ago quarter primarily due to lower domestic and international termination costs and USF fees, which are a pass through. On a per line basis, COTS was $7.60, down from $7.82 sequentially and $8.23 in the year ago quarter.

Direct cost of goods sold was $9 million, flat sequentially and compared to the year ago quarter. Direct margin<sup>3</sup> was 69%, flat sequentially and up from 68% in the year ago quarter.

Selling, general and administrative ("SG&A") expense was $61 million, down from $63 million sequentially primarily due to a one-time benefit of $2 million from the resolution of an insurance claim regarding prior period legal fees and settlement expense. SG&A increased from $58 million in the year ago quarter as the Company continued to expand its retail and community sales teams, reflecting the shift from traditional sales channels, which was offset by the insurance claim mentioned above and a 17% reduction in customer care costs per line to the lowest level in Company history.

Marketing expense was $58 million, up from $52 million sequentially and $55 million in the year ago quarter. Subscriber line acquisition cost ("SLAC") was $375, up from $349 sequentially and $336 in the year ago quarter. Total marketing expense and SLAC were driven by the heavy initial investment behind the national launch of BasicTalk.

Gross line additions were 155,000, up from 148,000 sequentially and down from 163,000 in the prior year. Customer churn was 2.4%, down from 2.5% sequentially and a year ago as a result of sustained improvements in the customer experience and more effective retention processes. Churn has remained at 2.5% or better for the past five quarters, reflecting the stability of the core customer base. The Company added 3,000 net lines during the quarter, an improvement from a net loss of 12,000 lines sequentially and breakeven net lines in the year ago quarter.

As of June 30, 2013, cash and cash equivalents, including $4 million in restricted cash, totaled $103 million. Capital expenditures, including the acquisition and development of software assets, were $8 million, up from $4 million sequentially and in the year ago quarter. Free Cash Flow<sup>4</sup> in the quarter was $11 million, up from $5 million sequentially due in part to changes in working capital from the timing of payments, and down from $25 million in the year ago quarter primarily due to lower net income, excluding adjustments, and higher capital expenditures and software assets.

Growth Priorities

Vonage continues to execute on its growth priorities in its core North American markets, international expansion and mobile.

Vonage successfully launched BasicTalk nationwide, which is now available online and in 3,700 Walmart stores, supported with incremental display merchandising in approximately 1,500 of those stores. BasicTalk offers unlimited calling throughout the U.S. for a flat rate of $9.99 per month and includes basic features with no hidden fees and no contract. The Company believes BasicTalk will be a meaningful contributor to gross line additions and revenue over time.

The Company is making progress building the foundation to deliver VoIP services in Brazil through its joint venture with Datora. In the past 12 weeks, Vonage formally established the joint venture legal entity, secured its headquarters facility, successfully hired key executives to operate the venture, received certification of its device from Anatel, the Brazilian National Telecommunications Agency, and solidified its solutions and operational planning and related delivery timelines.

Vonage continues to increase the quality and capabilities of its highly-rated voice, video and messaging mobile app, which is one of the most broadly functional over-the-top apps in the market. The Company expects to add to the app's feature set in the second half of 2013 and continues to make progress toward the commercial launch of its international roaming feature, which allows users to save on high-cost roaming fees when traveling internationally.

Share Repurchase Program

During the second quarter, Vonage repurchased 5 million shares of its common stock for $13 million. The Company has repurchased 9 million shares of stock for $24 million under the current $100 million plan authorized in February. Since the beginning of its repurchase program in August 2012 through the second quarter of 2013, Vonage has repurchased 23 million shares of stock for $58 million. On July 26, 2013, the Company completed an amendment to its credit facility that amends the financial covenant related to the consolidated fixed charge coverage ratio by increasing from $50 million to $80 million the amount of restricted payments excluded from such calculation, providing the Company with increased flexibility to repurchase stock. The Company believes it has the financial reserves to pursue buybacks and organic and inorganic opportunities for growth.

Outlook

In the third quarter Vonage expects to invest several million dollars over second quarter levels to further build the BasicTalk brand and customer base. Consistent with prior quarters, the Company will continue to invest in international expansion and mobile as it establishes its business in Brazil and strengthens its mobile services capabilities and launches new products. The Company expects third quarter churn to be in the mid-two percent range and continues to expect positive net line additions in the third quarter 2013.

The Company is updating its full year 2013 capital and software expenditures guidance to be "no greater than $30 million", down from "in the range of $30-$35 million".

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This press release includes the following measures defined as non-GAAP financial measures by the Securities and Exchange Commission: adjusted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("adjusted EBITDA"), net income excluding adjustments, net cash and free cash flow.

Vonage uses adjusted EBITDA as a principal indicator of the operating performance of its business.

Vonage believes that adjusted EBITDA permits a comparative assessment of its operating performance, relative to its performance based on its GAAP results, while isolating the effects of depreciation and amortization, which may vary from period to period without any correlation to underlying operating performance, of share-based expense, which is a non-cash expense that also varies from period to period, and of loss from abandonment of software assets due to the one-time, non-cash write-off of our investment in the Amdocs billing and ordering system that experienced development issues.

The Company provides information relating to its adjusted EBITDA so that investors have the same data that the Company employs in assessing its overall operations. The Company believes that trends in its adjusted EBITDA are valuable indicators of the operating performance of the Company on a consolidated basis and of its ability to produce operating cash flow to fund working capital needs, to service debt obligations, and to fund capital expenditures.

The Company has also excluded income tax expense and loss from abandonment of software assets from its net income (loss). The Company believes that excluding these item will assist investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance and in better understanding its results of operations as income tax expense does not reflect the taxes that we pay during the periods reported due to the availability of significant net operating losses and loss from abandonment of software assets was due to a one-time, non-cash write-off.

Vonage uses net cash as a measure of assessing leverage, as it reflects the gross debt under the Company's credit agreements and capital leases less cash available to repay such amounts. The Company believes that net cash is also a factor that third parties consider in valuing the Company.

Vonage considers free cash flow to be a liquidity measure that provides useful information to management about the amount of cash generated by the business that, after the acquisition of equipment and software, can be used by Vonage for debt service and strategic opportunities. Free cash flow is not a measure of cash available for discretionary expenditures since the Company has certain non-discretionary obligations such as debt service that are not deducted from the measure.

The non-GAAP financial measures used by Vonage may not be directly comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies due to differences in accounting policies and items excluded or included in the adjustments, which limits its usefulness as a comparative measure. These non-GAAP financial measures should be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, but should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, GAAP results.

Vonage defines adjusted EBITDA as GAAP income (loss) from operations excluding depreciation and amortization, share-based expense, and loss from abandonment of software assets.

Vonage defines net income excluding adjustments, as GAAP net income (loss) excluding income tax expense and loss from abandonment of software assets.

Vonage defines net cash as the current and long-term portion of notes payable and capital lease obligations less unrestricted cash.

Vonage defines free cash flow as net cash provided by operating activities minus capital expenditures and acquisition and development of software assets.

Safe Harbor Statement

This press release contains forward-looking statements regarding growth priorities, including new products and related investment, gross line additions and net lines, revenues, churn, financial resources, the Company's stock repurchase plan, and capital and software expenditures. In addition, other statements in this press release that are not historical facts or information may be forward-looking statements. The forward-looking statements in this release are based on information available at the time the statements are made and/or management's belief as of that time with respect to future events and involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results and outcomes to be materially different. Important factors that could cause such differences include, but are not limited to: the competition the Company faces; the Company's ability to adapt to rapid changes in the market for voice and messaging services; the Company's ability to retain customers and attract new customers; the Company's ability to establish and expand strategic alliances; governmental regulation and related actions and taxes in the Company's international operations; increased market and competitive risks, including currency restrictions, in the Company's international operations; risks related to the acquisition or integration of future businesses or joint ventures; the Company's ability to obtain or maintain relevant intellectual property licenses; intellectual property and other litigation that have been and may be brought against the Company; failure to protect the Company's trademarks and internally developed software; security breaches and other compromises of information security; the Company's dependence on third party facilities, equipment, systems and services; system disruptions or flaws in the Company's technology and systems; uncertainties relating to regulation of VoIP services; liability under anti-corruption laws; results of regulatory inquiries into the Company's business practices; fraudulent use of the Company's name or services; the Company's ability to maintain data security; the Company's dependence upon key personnel; the Company's dependence on the Company's customers' existing broadband connections: differences between the Company's service and traditional phone services, including the Company's 911 service; restrictions in the Company's debt agreements that may limit the Company's operating flexibility; the Company's ability to obtain additional financing if required; any reinstatement of holdbacks by the Company's vendors; the Company's history of net losses and ability to achieve consistent profitability in the future; the Company's available capital resources and other financial and operational performance which may cause the Company not to make common stock repurchases as currently anticipated or to commence or suspend such repurchases from time to time without prior notice; and other factors that are set forth in the "Risk Factors" section and other sections of Vonage's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012, as well as in the Company's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Current Reports on Form 8-K. While the Company may elect to update forward-looking statements at some point in the future, it specifically disclaims any obligation to do so, and therefore, you should not rely on these forward-looking statements as representing the Company's views subsequent to today.
