WebMD Appoints Pharmaceutical And Consumer Healthcare Industry Innovator Cavan M. Redmond As New CEO

Redmond Brings More Than 20 Years of Executive and Leadership Experience at Pfizer, Wyeth and Sandoz to WebMD

NEW YORK, June 1, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- WebMD Health Corp. (NASDAQ: WBMD), the leading source of health information, announced today that Cavan M. Redmond has been appointed as its new Chief Executive Officer and as a member of its Board of Directors, effective May 31, 2012. Mr. Redmond, 51, joins WebMD from Pfizer Inc., the world's largest research-based pharmaceutical company, where he most recently served as Group President, Animal Health, Consumer Healthcare and Corporate Strategy and as a member of Pfizer's Executive Leadership Team. He was responsible for two diverse businesses while leading Pfizer's enterprise-wide Strategy, R&D Portfolio Management and Analysis, Global Commercial Operations and Continuous Improvement.

"Cavan brings unparalleled expertise and leadership in both biopharmaceutical and consumer healthcare to WebMD, and we are excited to welcome him to the WebMD team," said Martin J. Wygod, Chairman, WebMD. "He has a successful track record in identifying and leveraging new revenue opportunities, driving efficiency and establishing sustainable growth platforms. Along with our experienced management team, I have great confidence that Cavan will take WebMD to the next level. Cavan's proven ability to drive strategy and leverage the value of brands will be invaluable as WebMD continues to define and lead the market for digital health information."

Mr. Redmond has more than 20 years of healthcare experience encompassing a broad range of global healthcare businesses including biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, consumer healthcare and infant nutritionals. Mr. Redmond is a global healthcare strategist with a demonstrated ability to implement complex strategies in highly competitive and regulated markets. His strength in new product development, marketing, strategy and technology has resulted in a proven track record of building global brands, starting new businesses and reenergizing existing businesses. His biopharmaceutical experience also includes leading global strategic marketing, marketing research and analytics, new product marketing and multi-channel marketing programs. Prior to Pfizer's acquisition of Wyeth, Mr. Redmond served as the first Executive Vice President and General Manager of Wyeth's high-growth BioPharma Business Unit where he was responsible for the creation of the global biopharma business and grew the business significantly.

"WebMD is driving innovation in the rapidly changing healthcare market with its industry leading proprietary products and services for consumers, physicians and healthcare companies," said Mr. Redmond. "As the biopharmaceutical commercial model continues to evolve, WebMD can capitalize on these changes. WebMD's digital reach to consumers and physicians is an important part of the industry's communications infrastructure and as the healthcare industry undergoes significant changes, there is tremendous opportunity for WebMD to better enable patients and physicians to engage with one another. I look forward to working with WebMD's management team and employees, as well as the Board of Directors, to deliver innovation to our users and value for our customers and shareholders."

Mr. Redmond earned a Master of Administrative Science from The Johns Hopkins University, where he also completed a post-graduate fellowship in organizational change management; he also earned a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Maryland.

Anthony Vuolo, Chief Financial Officer, who has also served as interim Chief Executive Officer since January 2012 while the Board of Directors conducted a search for a permanent CEO, will continue in the position of Chief Financial Officer.
