Sundberg brings more than 20 years of experience in developing and aligning HR strategy with business needs. She most recently served as senior vice president, Global Human Resources at Jacobs, a global provider of technical, professional and construction services with more than 50,000 employees worldwide. Earlier in her career, Sundberg advanced through a series of HR leadership roles at American Express and served as senior vice president, Human Resources and Ethics at Arizona Public Services Company, the largest electric utility in Arizona.

"Lori is a proven HR leader with a strong background for developing talent in large organizations, and we are excited to have her join our leadership team," said Steve Milligan, chief executive officer, Western Digital. "She will focus on harnessing the strengths of our diverse, global teams to create an environment where our people and their careers can thrive."

Sundberg holds a bachelor of science degree in Business Management from Brigham Young University. She will be based at Western Digital's global headquarters in San Jose, California.
