

Website Pros Announces Partnership With InternetSecure

Combines Complete Website Development Services With One of the Industry's Most Respected Transaction Processors

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 30, 2007 (PRIME NEWSWIRE) -- Website Pros, Inc. (NasdaqGM: WSPI), a leading provider of website technology, services and Internet solutions for small and medium-sized businesses, announced today a partnership with InternetSecure, part of the Nova Information Systems family of companies, a wholly owned subsidiary of U.S. Bancorp (NYSE:USB). InternetSecure specializes in payment processing for businesses with an online presence. The Nova network is one of the most reliable payment processing networks in North America, annually processing approximately one billion transactions at more than one million merchant locations.

The partnership of Website Pros and InternetSecure aligns Website Pros' comprehensive suite of full-service e-commerce solutions and online marketing services with InternetSecure's state-of-the-art proprietary credit card transaction processing. This combination of services provides all of the tools and technology a business needs to establish a Web presence, sell products and services online, and drive qualified leads to the business.

"InternetSecure and Website Pros provide all of the online services a business needs to be successful on the Internet, making the partnership between InternetSecure and Website Pros a win-win for both companies," said David Brown, CEO of Website Pros. "We are proud to partner with high-value organizations like InternetSecure."

InternetSecure customers that wish to take advantage of the Website Pros' services can select from a variety of website and online marketing packages designed to meet customers' needs no matter where they are in their business lifecycle. Website Pros' complete online solutions provide businesses with ongoing telephone support to easily accommodate changes and opportunities of growing businesses.

"We're delighted to be able to offer Website Pros' services to our merchants," said Mia Huntington, Vice President of Sales with InternetSecure. "We are constantly looking for ways to add value to our customers. Partnering with one of the leading providers of web services and online marketing allows us to offer an effective end-to-end solution to our merchant's online businesses."
